

iCleaning Services Conditional Disclaimer

The prices quoted may vary based on work required, for example the condition of a property, the length of tenancy and the overall square metreage. All prices quoted by our online booking form or over the phone are intended as a guide subject to extra costs on the day of clean. As an indication prices may vary on room size, scope of cleaning and general condition of bathrooms and kitchens. Therefore we reserve the right to request further payment on the day of clean if need be, you are required to pay the full amount before the cleaning commences.

Whilst every attempt is made to remove stains from carpets using our professional cleaning equipment we are unable to guarantee that carpet will return to their original condition. Due simply to wear and tear. Our success rate is high however sometimes unfortunately stains simply cannot be removed without damaging the carpet fibres.

iCleaning Services offers a 48 hour time-frame in which you as the client are asked to report to us anything missed in your clean or anything you believe to not be cleaned to an acceptable standard. After this 48 hour period has ended iCleaning Services will not be held responsible for any further cleaning duties.

iCleaning Services does not guarantee that you will retrieve your Bond from your Real Estate Agent, we are simply a cleaning company here to assist you as the client and to give you a higher success rate in retrieving your Bond.

Once you as the client have approved the work done and accepted the final condition iCleaning Services will not be held responsible for further cleaning or additional duties not originally agreed upon.

By ticking the I Accept Box and Sending a quote through our automated system, you are agreeing to this disclaimer.